

College of Nursing Academic Learning Compacts

Nursing - B.S.N.

Discipline Specific Knowledge, Skills, Behavior and Values

1. Synthesize knowledge from nursing and the physical, biological, behavioral, psychological and social sciences, and the humanities in the practice of professional nursing.
2. Students in the BSN program will participate in interdisciplinary and community partnerships to meet the health care needs of individuals, families, and communities in diverse society with particular emphasis on needs of vulnerable populations.
3. Demonstrate competencies in the performance and evaluation of nursing techniques and skills.
4. Use the principles of teaching and learning to promote, maintain, and restore health, and prevent illnesses with individuals, families, and communities.
5. Use research in the exploration of health problems and the implementation of evidence-based practice.
6. Students in the BSN program will demonstrate evidence of critical thinking and be able to interpret and analyze comprehensive assessment data to formulate clinical judgments about patients, family and defined populations across the life span.

Critical Thinking

1. Synthesize knowledge from nursing and the physical, biological, behavioral, psychological and social sciences, and the humanities in the practice of professional nursing.
2. College of Nursing students will apply information fluency and use critical thinking as the basis for professional nursing practice
3. Use the principles of teaching and learning to promote, maintain, and restore health, and prevent illnesses with individuals, families, and communities.
4. Use research in the exploration of health problems and the implementation of evidence-based practice.

5. Students in the BSN program will demonstrate evidence of critical thinking and be able to interpret and analyze comprehensive assessment data to formulate clinical judgments about patients, family and defined populations across the life span.

Communication

1. Demonstrate effective verbal, written, and electronic communication in the promotion of culturally appropriate care.
2. Students in the BSN program will participate in interdisciplinary and community partnerships to meet the health care needs of individuals, families, and communities in diverse society with particular emphasis on needs of vulnerable populations.
3. Use the principles of teaching and learning to promote, maintain, and restore health, and prevent illnesses with individuals, families, and communities.

Assessment of Nursing - B.S.N. Outcomes

These outcomes will be assessed using a variety of assessment methods, including:

- Exams
- Teaching projects
- Clinical experiences
- Client evaluations
- Interviews
- Community assessment
- Logs of clinical experiences