Division Review Committee

In October 2001, the University Assessment Committee unanimously approved the creation of Divisional Review Committees (DRCs) to implement the institutional effectiveness assessment process throughout the University of Central Florida. DRC members are typically experienced assessment coordinators from the review group. Each major academic or administrative division determines the composition and length of service for its DRC members.

As of Fall 2026, there are a total of 18 Divisional Review Committees:

- Academic Divisional Review Committees
  - Barry S. Miller College of Business
  - College of Arts and Humanities
  - College of Community Innovation and Education
  - College of Engineering and Computer Science
  - College of Graduate Studies
  - College of Health Professions and Sciences
  - College of Medicine
  - College of Nursing
  - College of Optics and Photonics
  - College of Sciences
  - General Education Program
  - Rosen College of Hospitality Management

- Administrative Divisional Review Committees
  - Academic Affairs I (Deans' Offices; Vice Presidents; Academic Program Quality, Access and Community Engagement, Analytics and Integrated Planning, Division of Digital Learning, Faculty Center for Teaching and Learning, Faculty Excellence, Office of Undergraduate Research, Office of Undergraduate Studies, Operational Excellence and Assessment Support, Student Success and Well-Being and UCF Libraries)
  - Finance (Finance and kNext Finance)
  - Office of Research (includes several research centers and related units)
  - Student Success and Well-Being
  - University Operations (Public Safety, UCF IT and University Operations)
  - University Relations

Divisional Review Committee members:

- Serve faculty and staff as near peer mentors following a collaborative model
- Review and evaluate the quality of program or unit results reports and plans

The Chair of each Divisional Review Committee sits on the University Assessment Committee.