

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

COLLEGE OF HEALTH PROFESSIONS AND SCIENCES GENERAL HEALTH STUDIES - B.S.

Discipline Specific Knowledge, Skills, Behavior and Values

1. Students in General Health Studies BS major will demonstrate proficiency in knowledge and application of basic concepts covered in fundamental upper division level courses.
2. Students in General Health Studies BS major will demonstrate critical thinking skills through assignments that require analysis, interpretation, and formulation of conclusions/implications.
3. Students in the General Health Studies BS major will demonstrate proficiency in career development planning for graduate school/employment in a health care profession and knowledge of professional behaviors, requirements, and expectations for health care professionals.

Critical Thinking

1. Students in General Health Studies BS major will demonstrate critical thinking skills through assignments that require analysis, interpretation, and formulation of conclusions/implications.
2. Students in the General Health Studies BS major will demonstrate proficiency in career development planning for graduate school/employment in a health care profession and knowledge of professional behaviors, requirements, and expectations for health care professionals.

Communication

1. Students in the General Health Studies BS major will demonstrate proficiency in career development planning for graduate school/employment in a health care profession and knowledge of professional behaviors, requirements, and expectations for health care professionals.

Assessment of General Health Studies - B.S. Outcomes

These outcomes will be assessed using a variety of assessment methods, including:

- Tests
- Projects
- Papers
- Case presentations
- Oral reports

- Field instructor evaluations
- Surveys